DW Turner Wraps 2010 with over $246,000 in Community Giving

DW Turner announces call for applications for 2011

Albuquerque, NM (May 26, 2011) – DW Turner, Inc, New Mexico's leading public affairs, strategic communications and public relations firm, today announced their total annual service contributions to non-profit organizations. Twenty-one local non-profits received more than $246,000 in pro bono service grants in 2010.

"We believe in giving back to organizations that are making a difference in communities throughout New Mexico," said DW Turner's President and CEO Doug Turner. "Even a little communications or strategic guidance can go a long way and we are fortunate to be in a position to help," added Turner.

DW Turner's service grant program provides non-profit organizations with access to a range integrated public relations, advertising, marketing and creative services. Organizations have received a combination of strategic counsel, branding services, media relations assistance, copy writing, event planning and creative services.

"We are very appreciative of the work that DW Turner has contributed to Court Appointed Special Advocates (CASA)," said Rick Semones, CASA Board President. "DW Turner's expertise and guidance made our organization's endeavors more successful and, will ultimately, positively impact the lives of children in New Mexico."

In addition to CASA, Roadrunner Food Bank, East Mountain High School, Voices for Children, Amy Biel High School and the New Mexico Human Rights Projects were also recipients of 2010 grants. DW Turner is now accepting grant applications for 2011 – 2012. For more information and a complete grant application, visit www.dwtturner.com or email to grants@dwtturner.com.
